

CONTENTS

All Our Jamaicas: A Foreword	11
Feeding the Cultural Imagination
Jean D’Costa Believes in Feeding the Cultural Imagination	25
The Gift of Music and Song: An Interview with Hazel Campbell	43
Velma Pollard’s Tribute Poems: Dialogue Between Poets	49
Christine Craig Makes the Case for Inclusiveness	61
Of Hearts Revealed: An Interview with Olive Senior	69
The Muse of Memory is the Muse of Poetry: An Interview with Poet Laureate Lorna Goodison	81
Explaining Ourselves to Ourselves
Explaining Ourselves to Ourselves: An Interview with Marcia Douglas	95
Writing Helps Me Maintain My Sanity: An Interview with Ann-Margaret Lim	101
The Blessings & Burdens of Being a Poet: Millicent A.A. Graham	106
Keisha-Gaye Anderson Believes in Making the Maximum Impact While We’re Here	112
Kerry Young’s Historical Novels Sheds Light on a Vibrant Chinese Community in Jamaica	118
In Pamela Mordecai’s Work Issues of Belonging & Identity Emerge	130
Writing A New Jamaican Story
For Sharon Leach, Writing is Holding a Mirror Up to Society	145
Mountains, Land, Sea and Sand: An Interview with Tanya Shirley	151
Yemoya Sits on My Head: An Interview with Opal Palmer Adisa	156
Journeying Towards Integration: Patricia Powell Tackles Healing	161
Women Take Center Stage and Set the Record Straight in the Poetry of Shara McCallum	173
‘White Caribbean’: An Interview with biographer Michela Calderaro on the Life and Work of Eliot Bliss	188
Ixora Chain
An Afterword with Jacqueline Bishop and the Interviewees	199